Household Changes 1990 - 2000

Urban Core

Household Percentage Change By Block Group

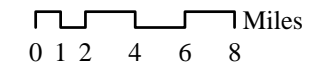

This map was produced by translating 1990 census household data by block groups to 2000 census block groups. The 1990 census total households were then subtracted from the 2000 total households to obtain the change in total number of households by (2000) block groups over the decade. This was utilized to calculate the percentage change in total households from 1990 to 2000.
