REGIONAL ASSETS AND ECONOMIC ANALYSES

TOOL D: Series of Regional Assets and Economic Analysis

To provide insights on where the Region stands on a variety of subjects, serving as a foundation for future planning, coordination, and project development efforts

Published regional profiles to-date include:

- Diversity
- Vacancy
- Recreational open space
- Transportation
- Business and Industry
- Equity

Information through a print version and a dynamic, web-based infographics and interactive maps

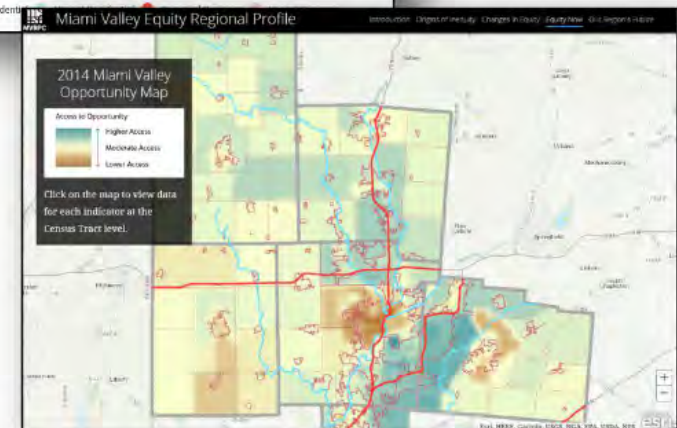

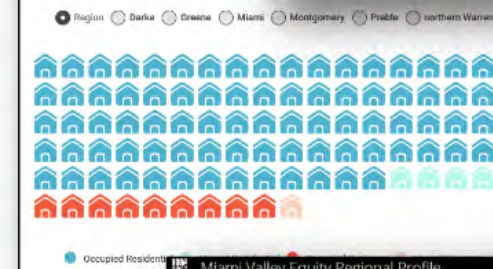

Our Region's economy has been struggling more than the U.S. as a whole and recovering from a significant job loss from the 2008 recession.

6 out of every 100 units are vacant.

Of those vacant units: 85% residential and 15% business.

LADDERS OF OPPORTUNITY

— Work — Connect — Revitalize —

 U.S. Department of Transportation

MVRPC, in partnership with the U. S. Department of Transportation's Ladders of Opportunity Initiative, seeks to revitalize communities, connect people to resources, and improve economic vitality and socioeconomic mobility in the Miami Valley Region.

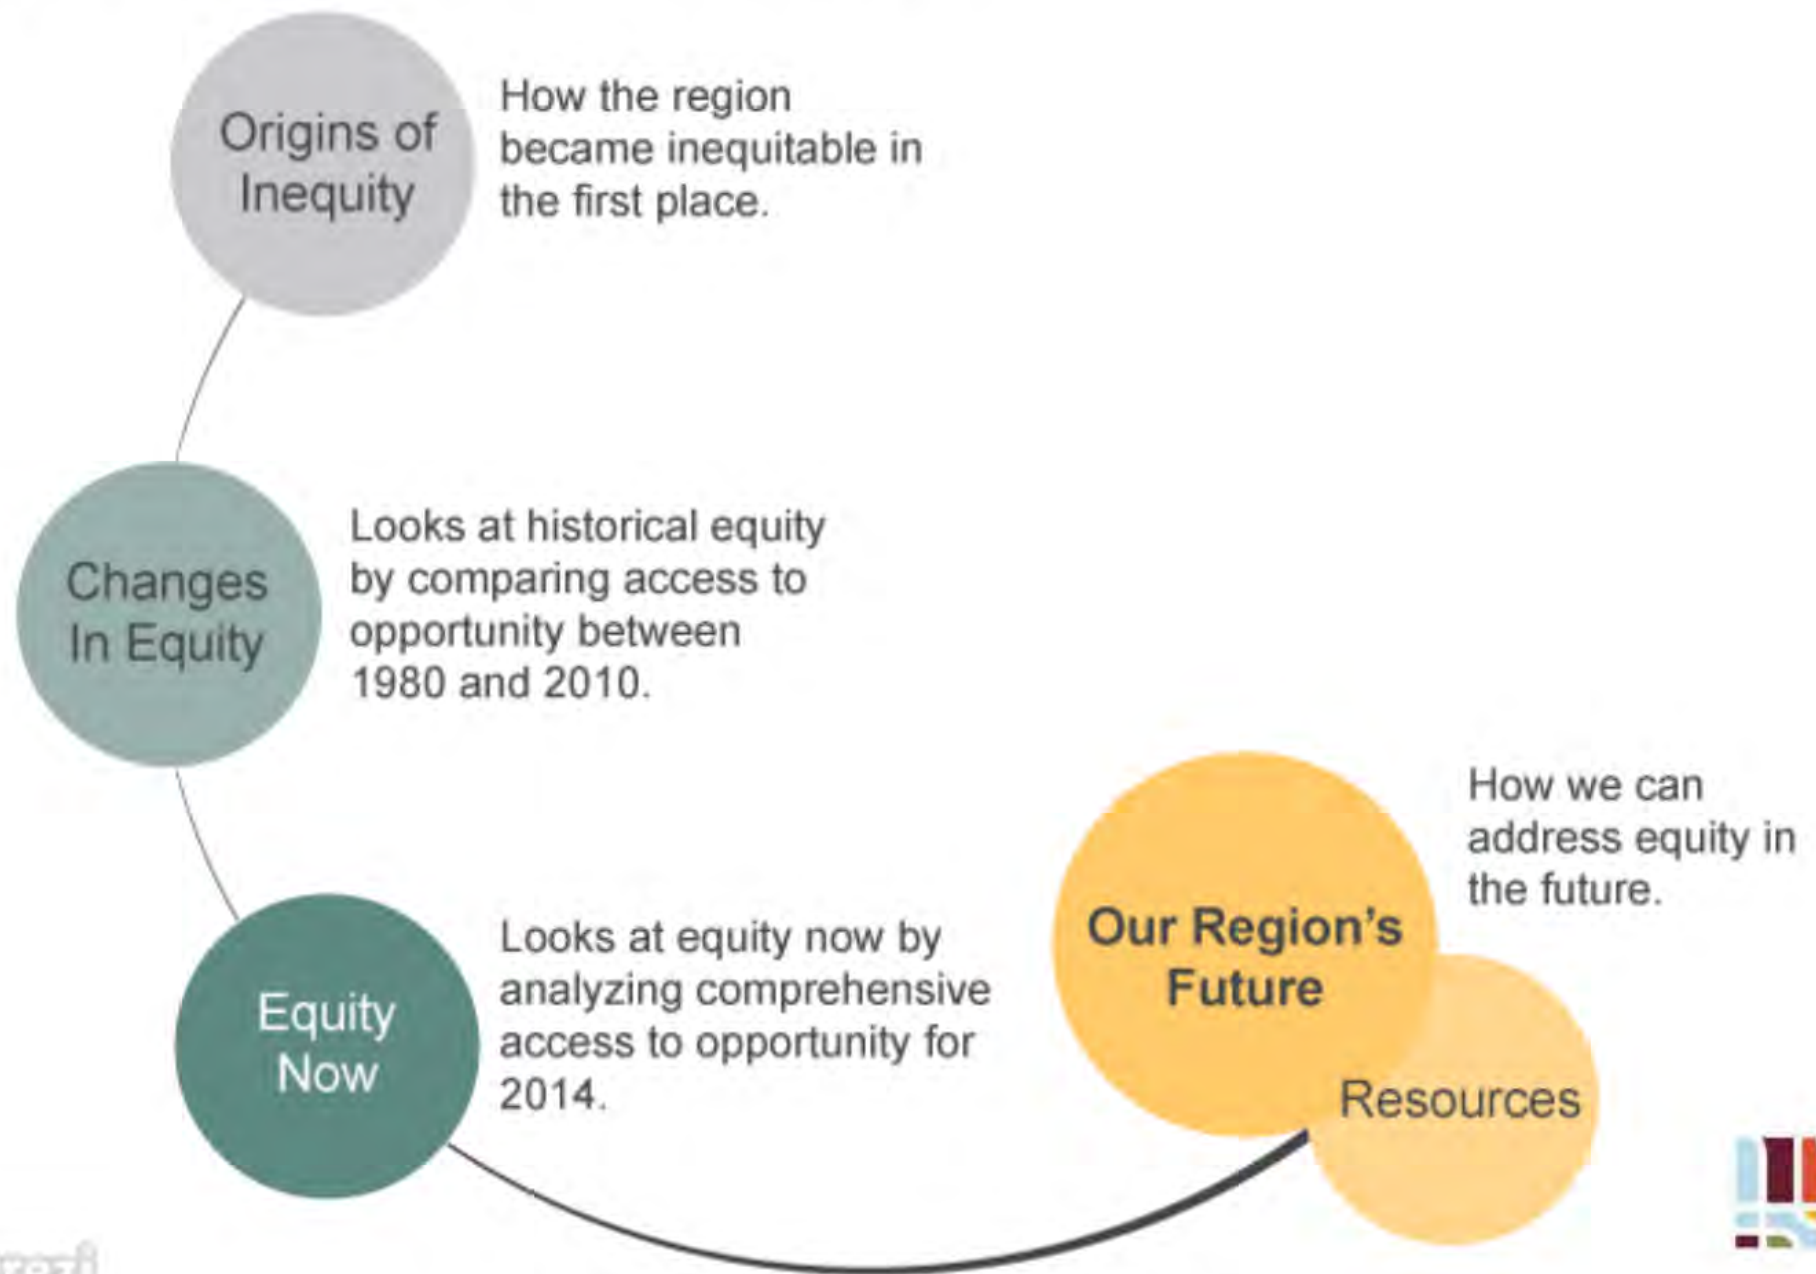

Equity:

All people, regardless of where they live, have access to the resources and opportunities that improve their quality of life

Our Region's future growth and prosperity depends on integrating all residents into the economy, including investing in the places and people that have been left behind.

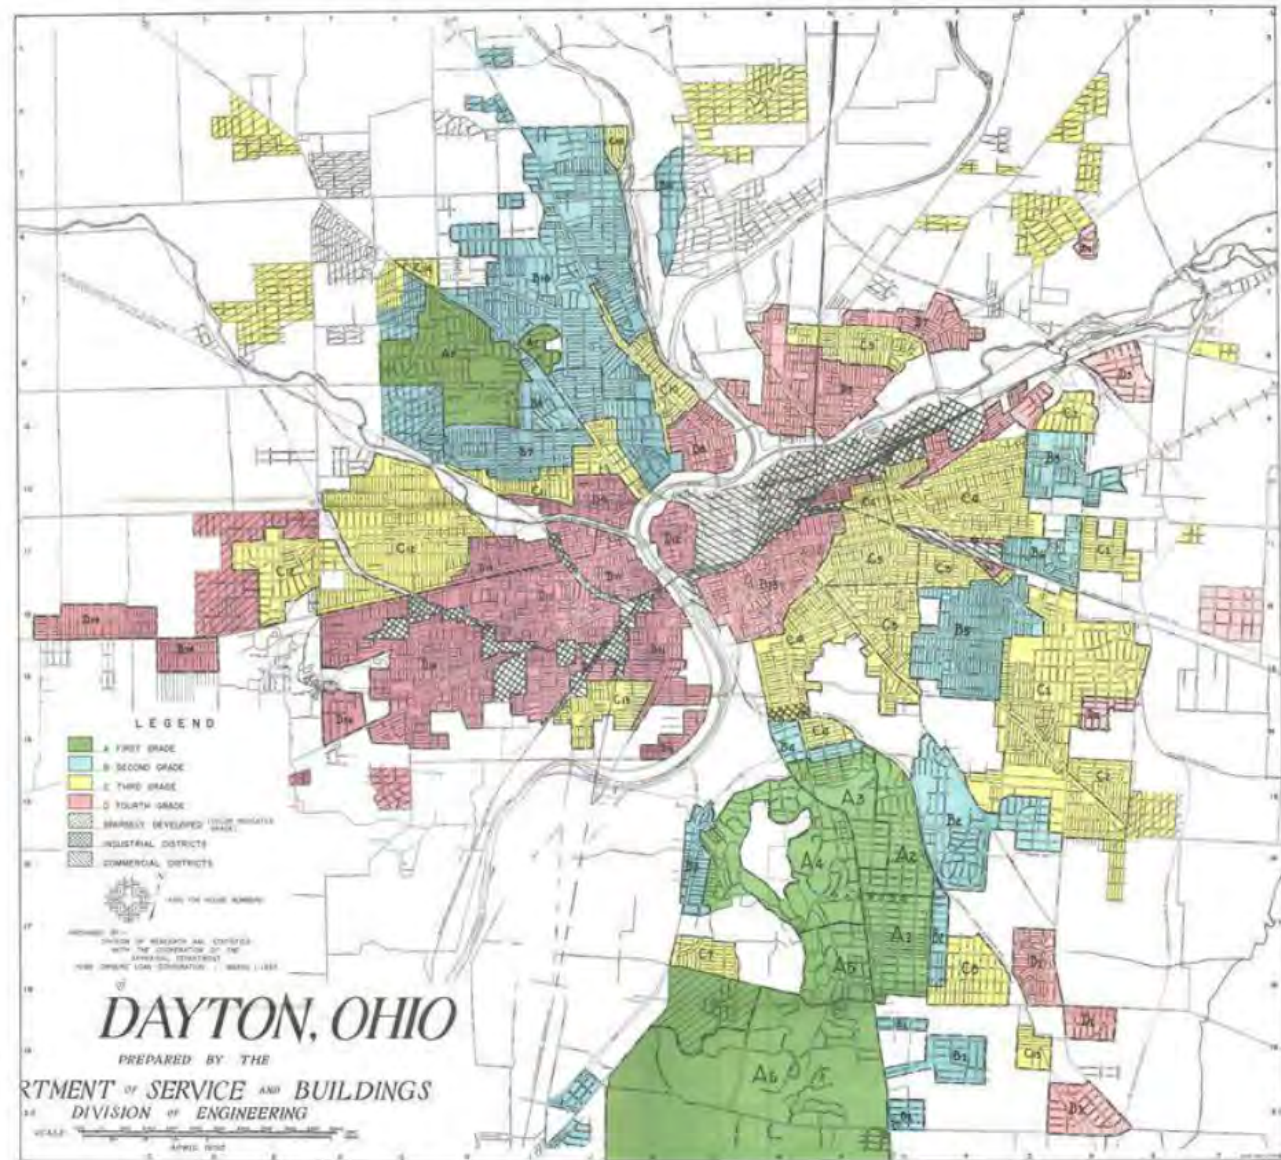

Equity Profile presents:

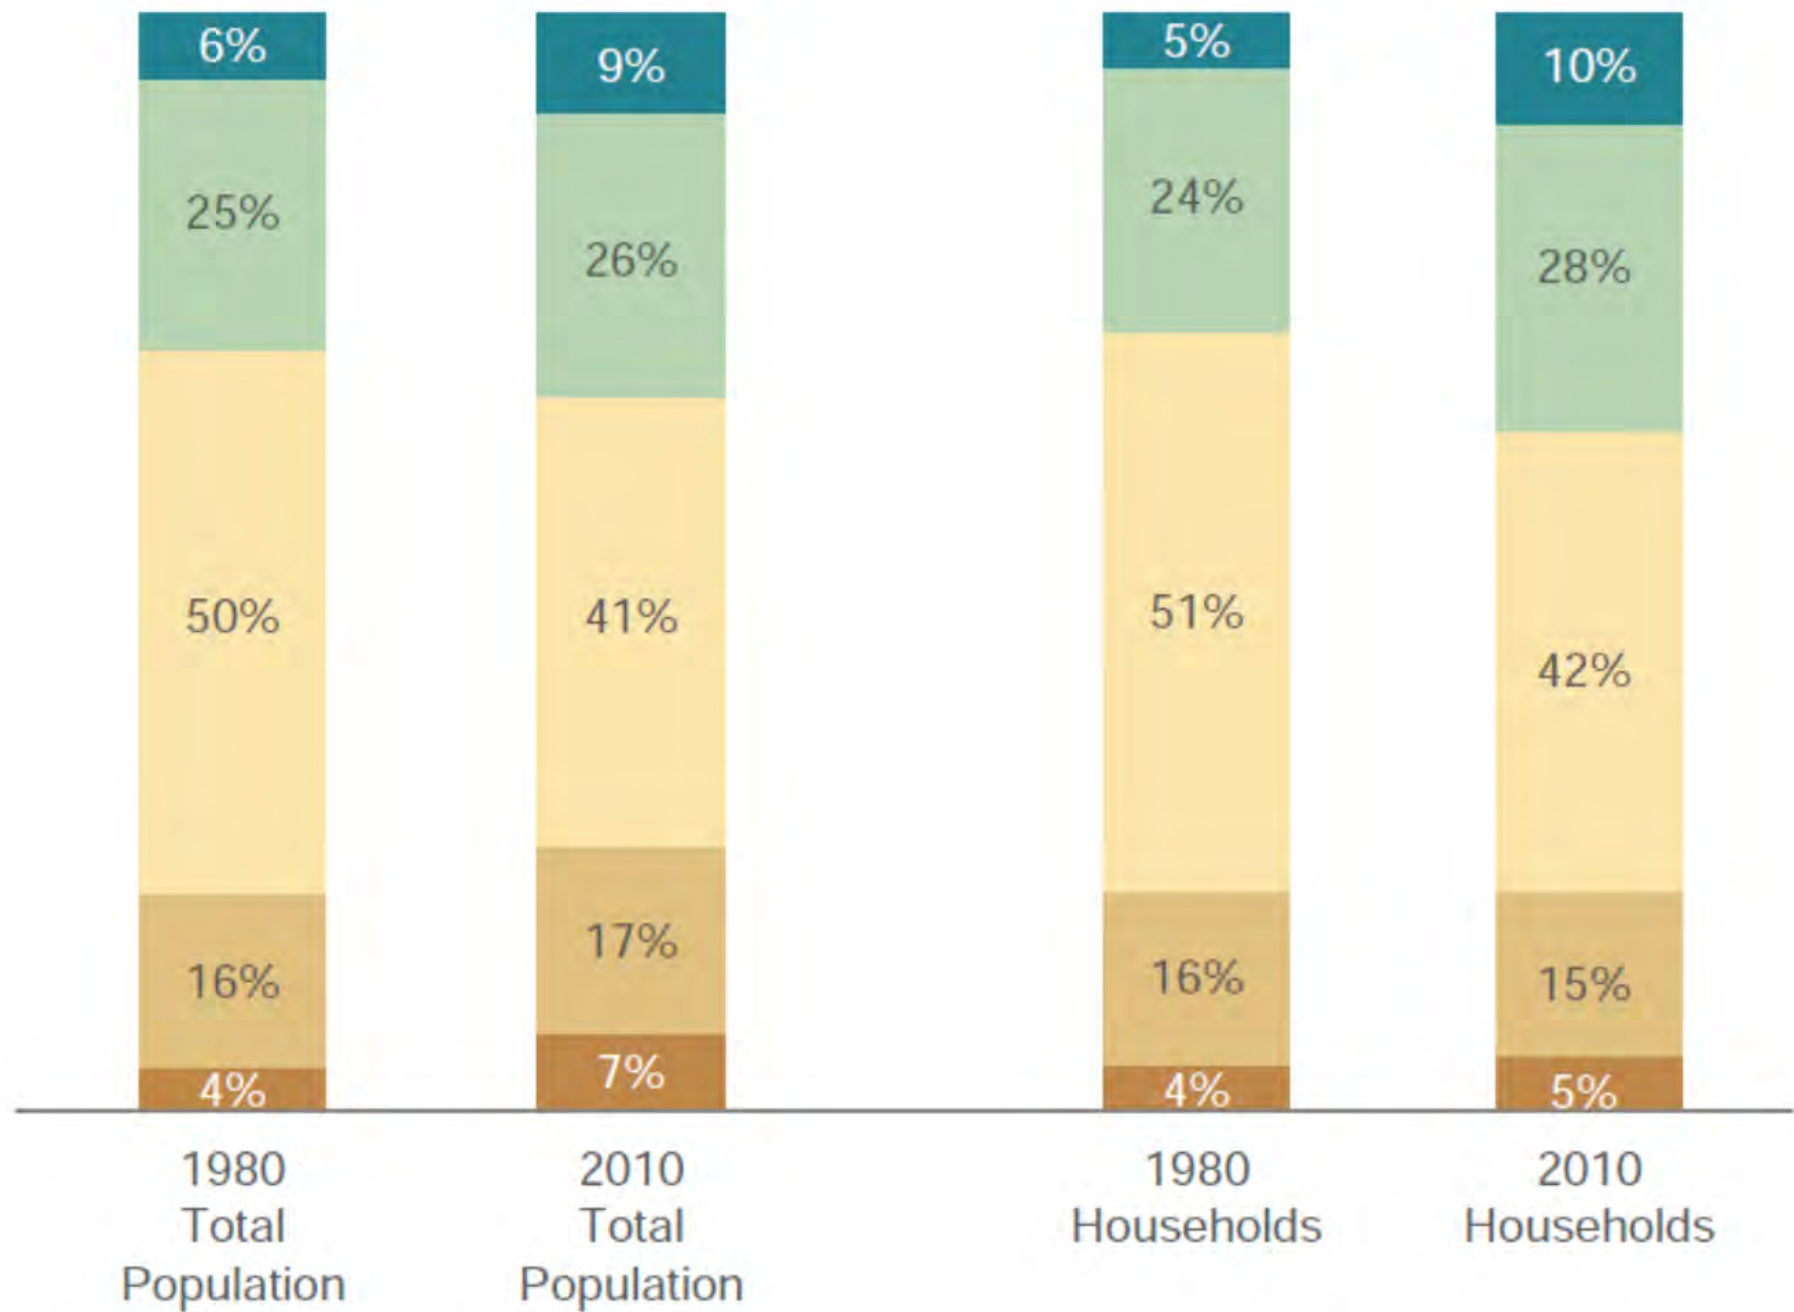

1937 Home Owners Loan Incorporation (HOLC) Map

While HOLC was meant to help people keep their homes in the depression era, it also codified racial and class segregation for decades to come.

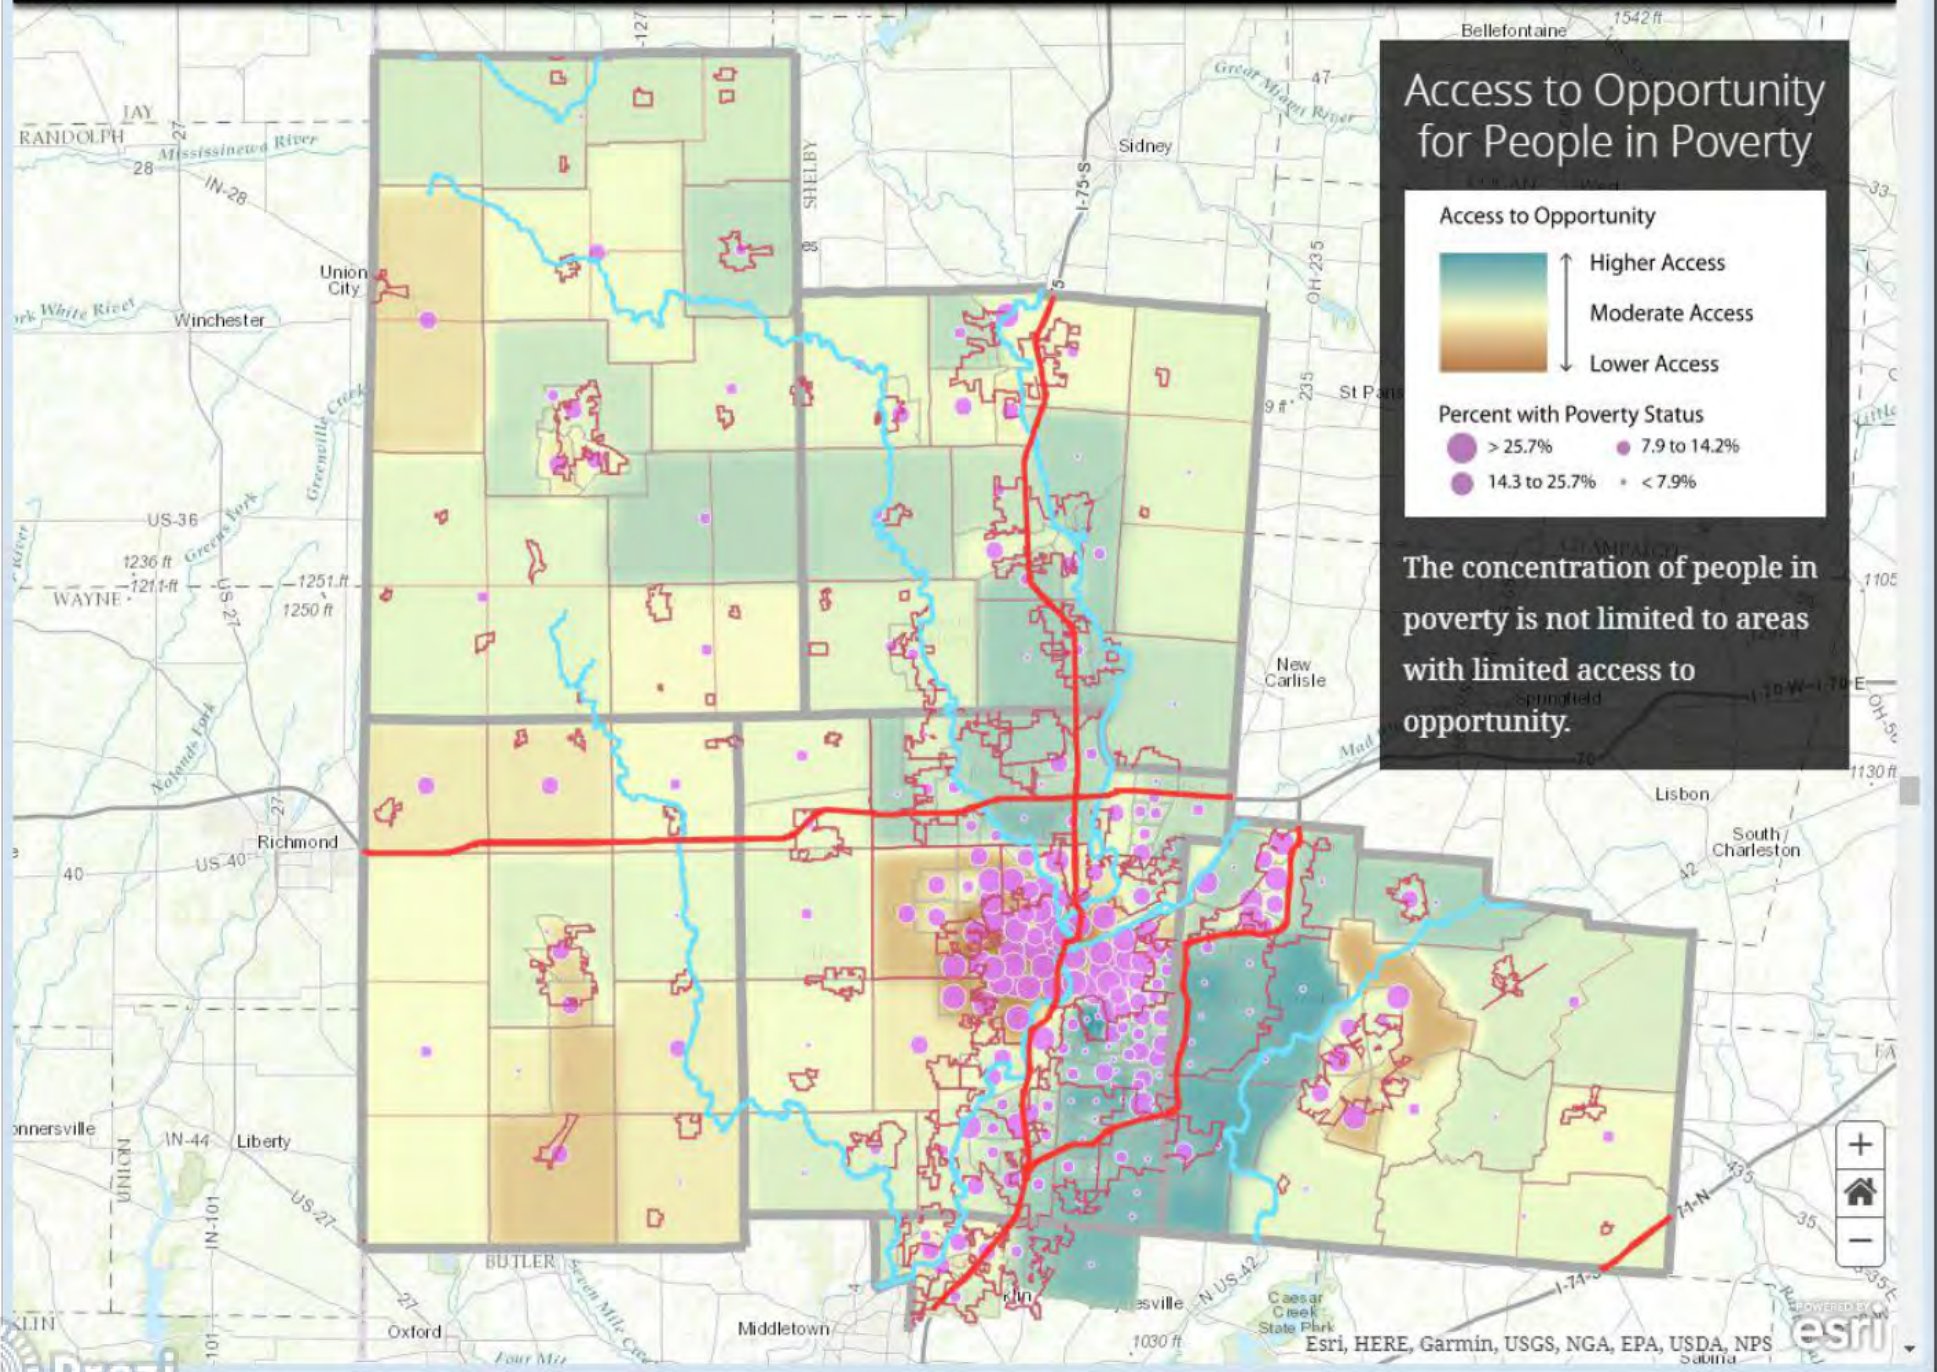

- A "Best"
- B "Still Desirable"
- C "Definitely Declining"
- D "Hazardous"

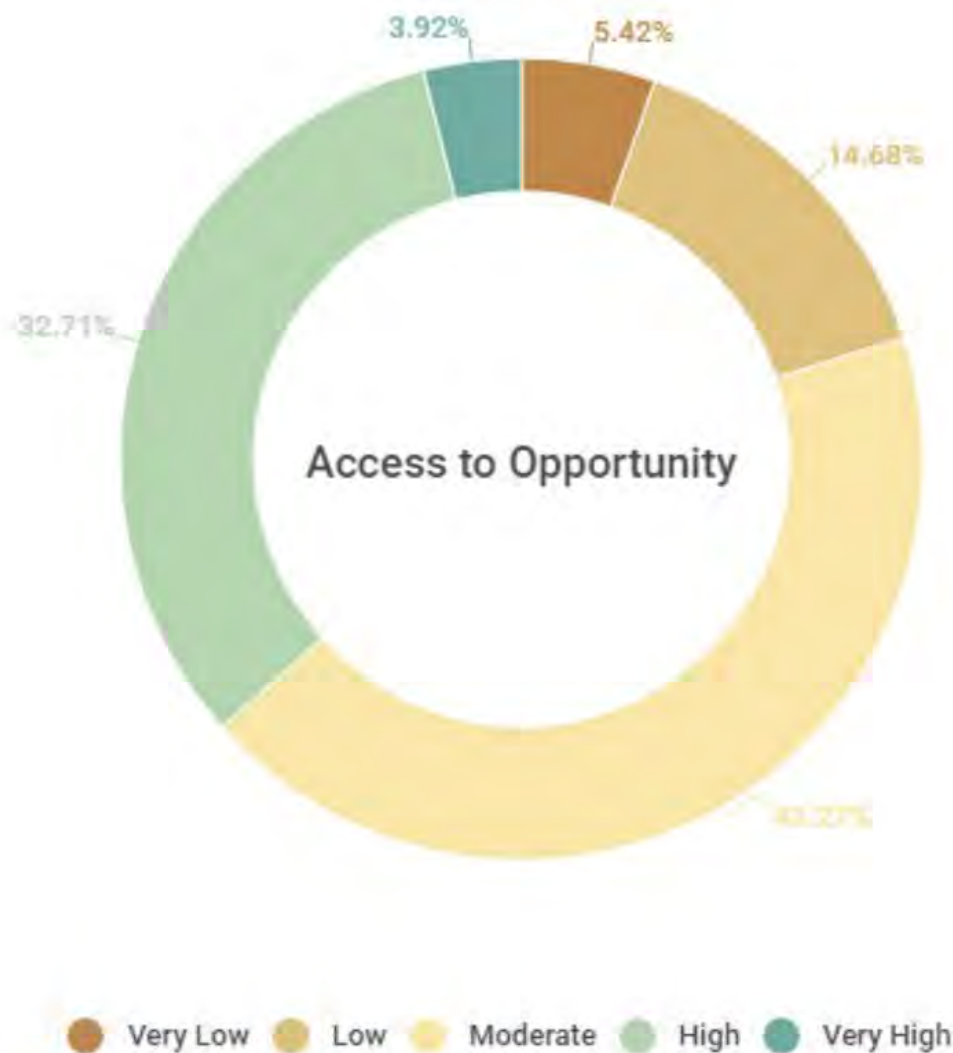

Access to Opportunity:

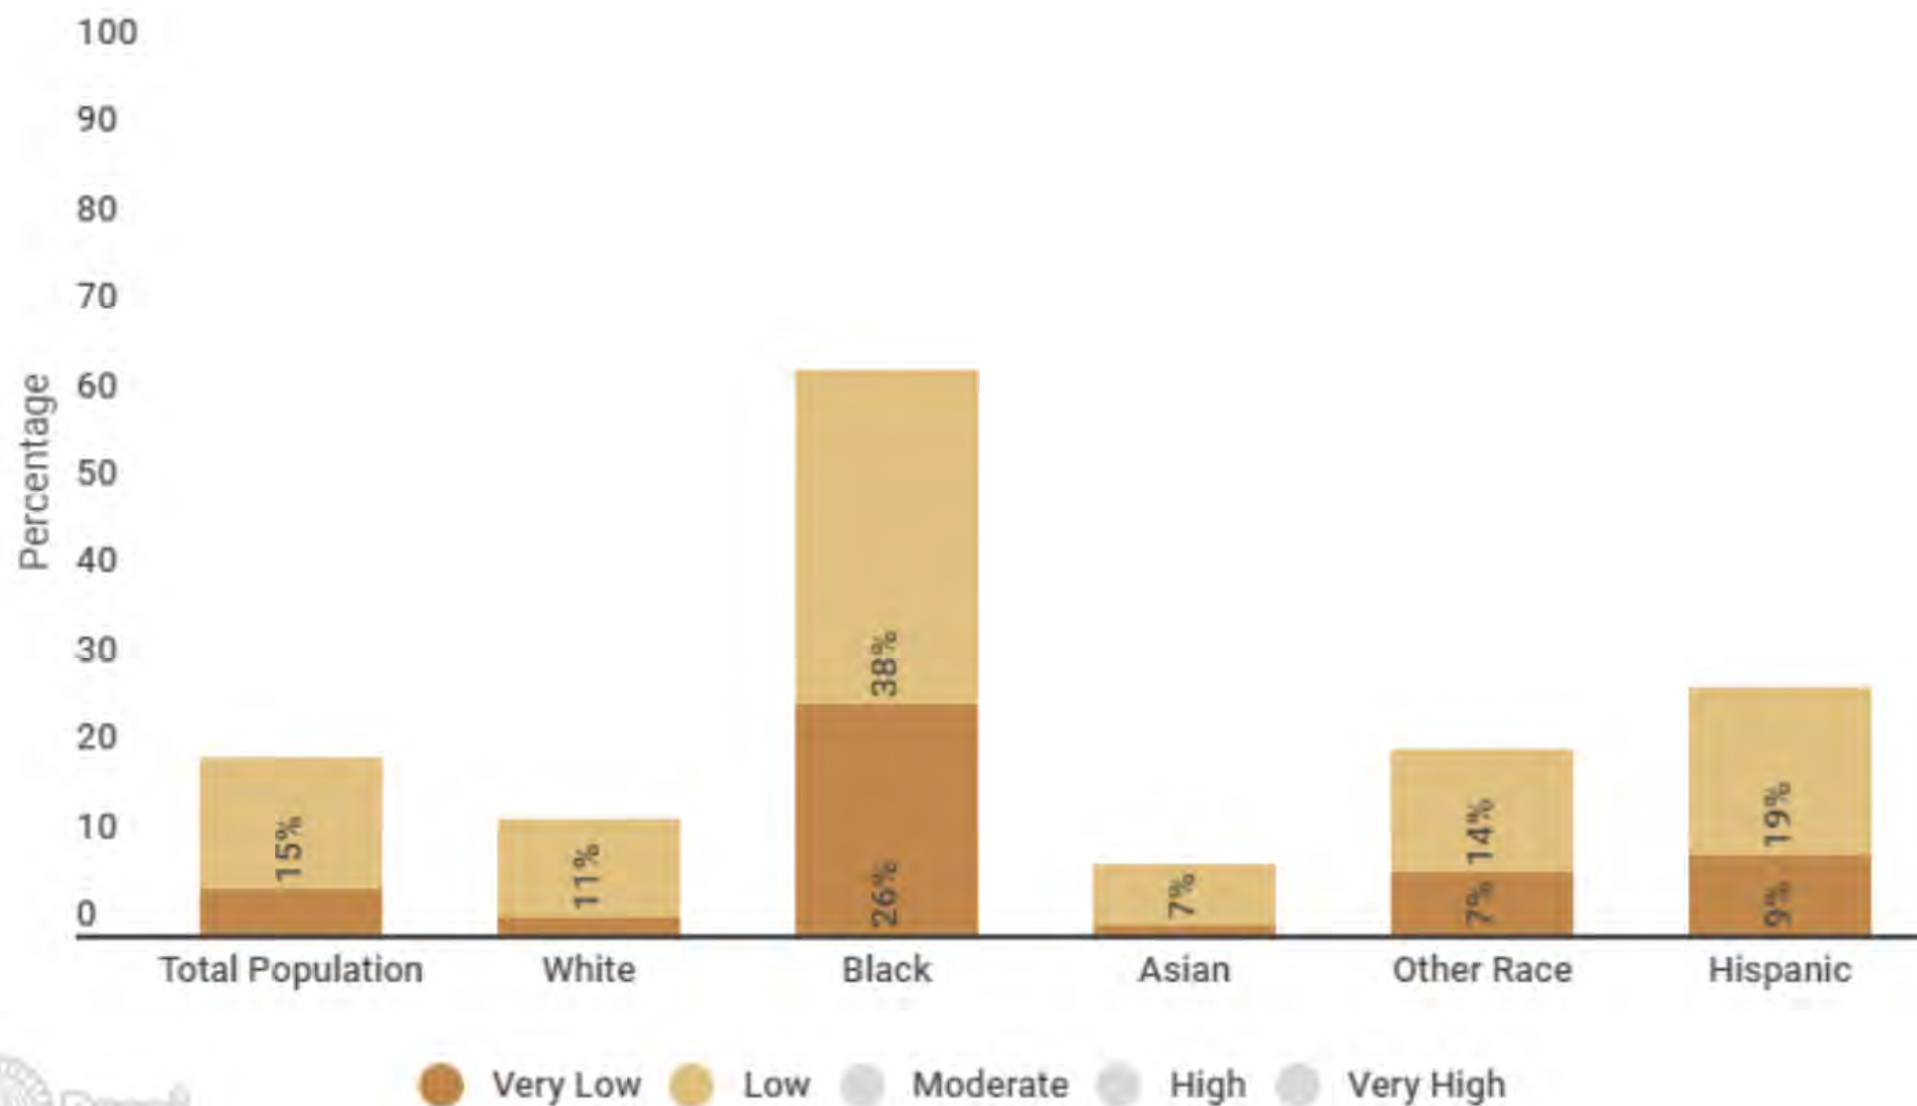

● Very Low ● Low ● Moderate ● High ● Very High

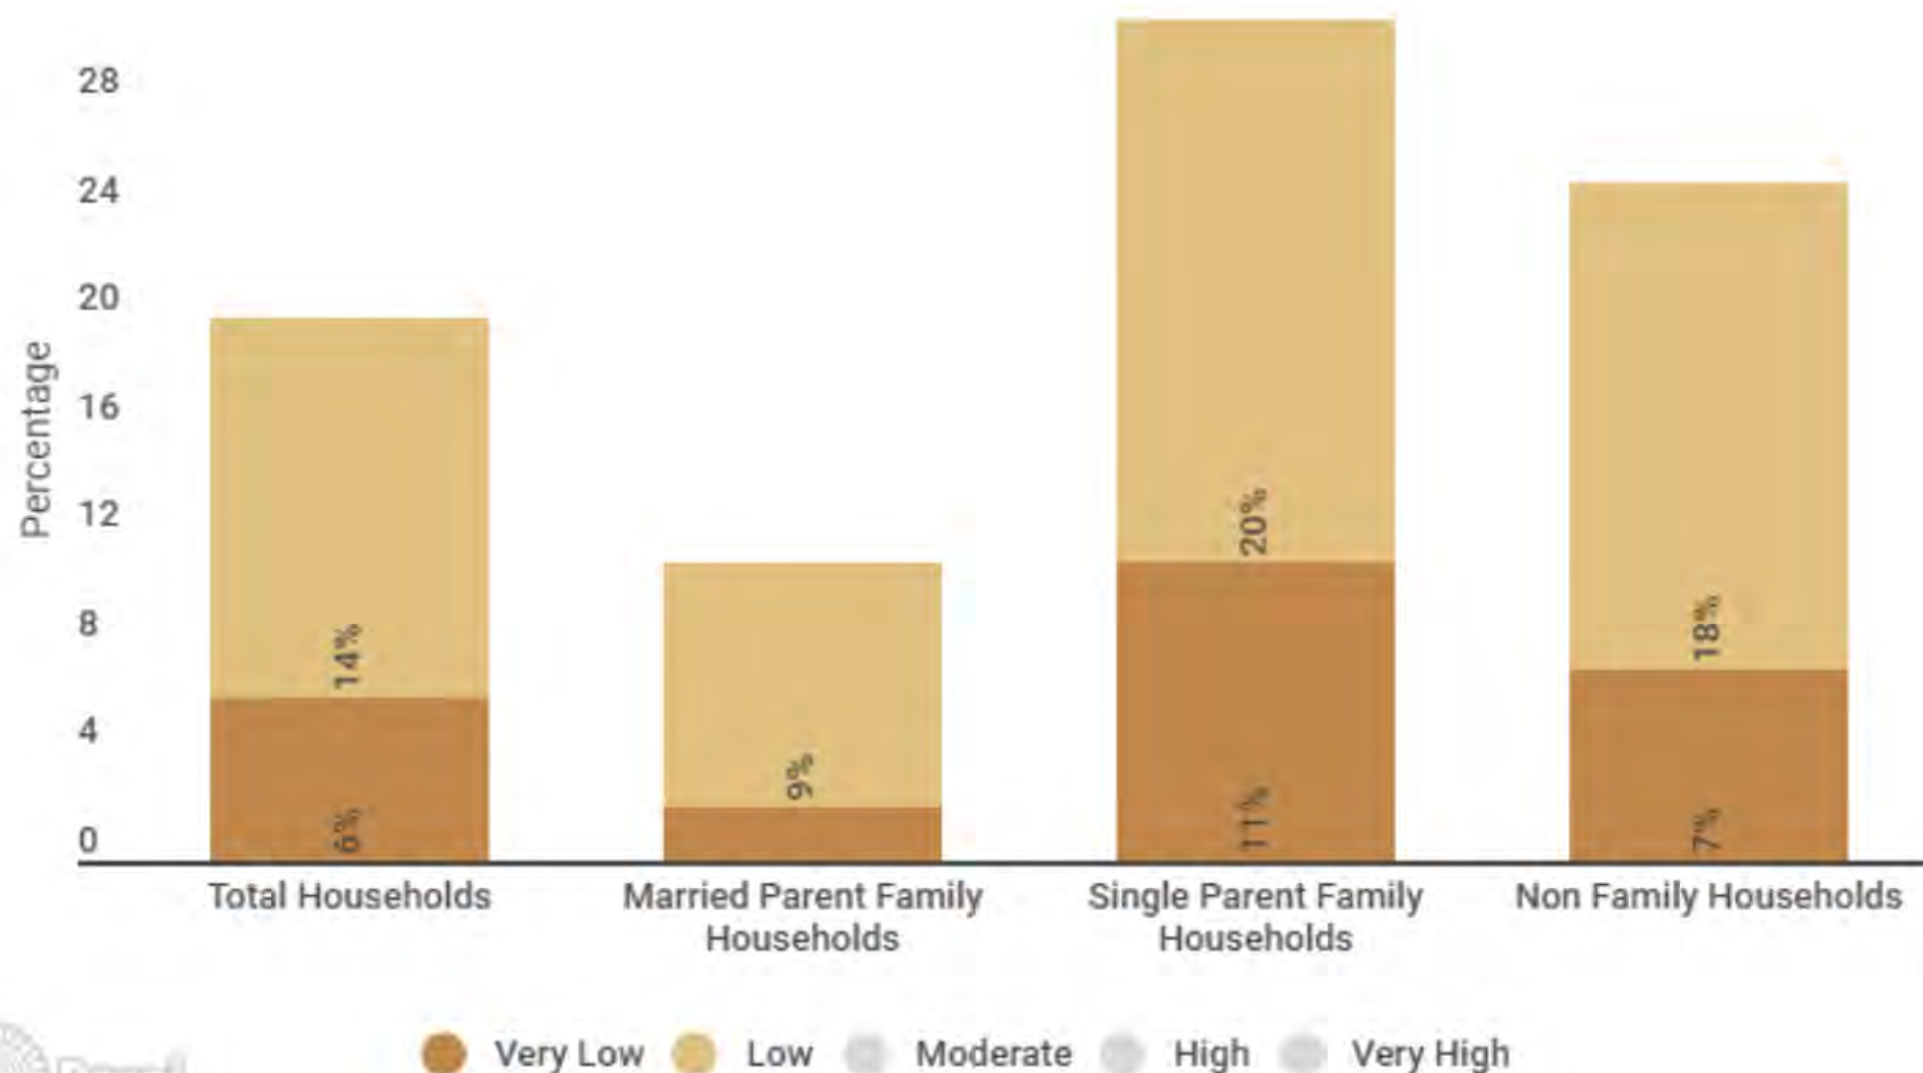

Access to Opportunity for the Miami Valley Region

GUIDING PRINCIPLES OF INVESTING IN EQUITY

Invest in all of the Miami Valley's people and communities.

Promote policies and investments that address the consequences of inequity.

Provide tools and resources that break down remaining barriers to opportunity.

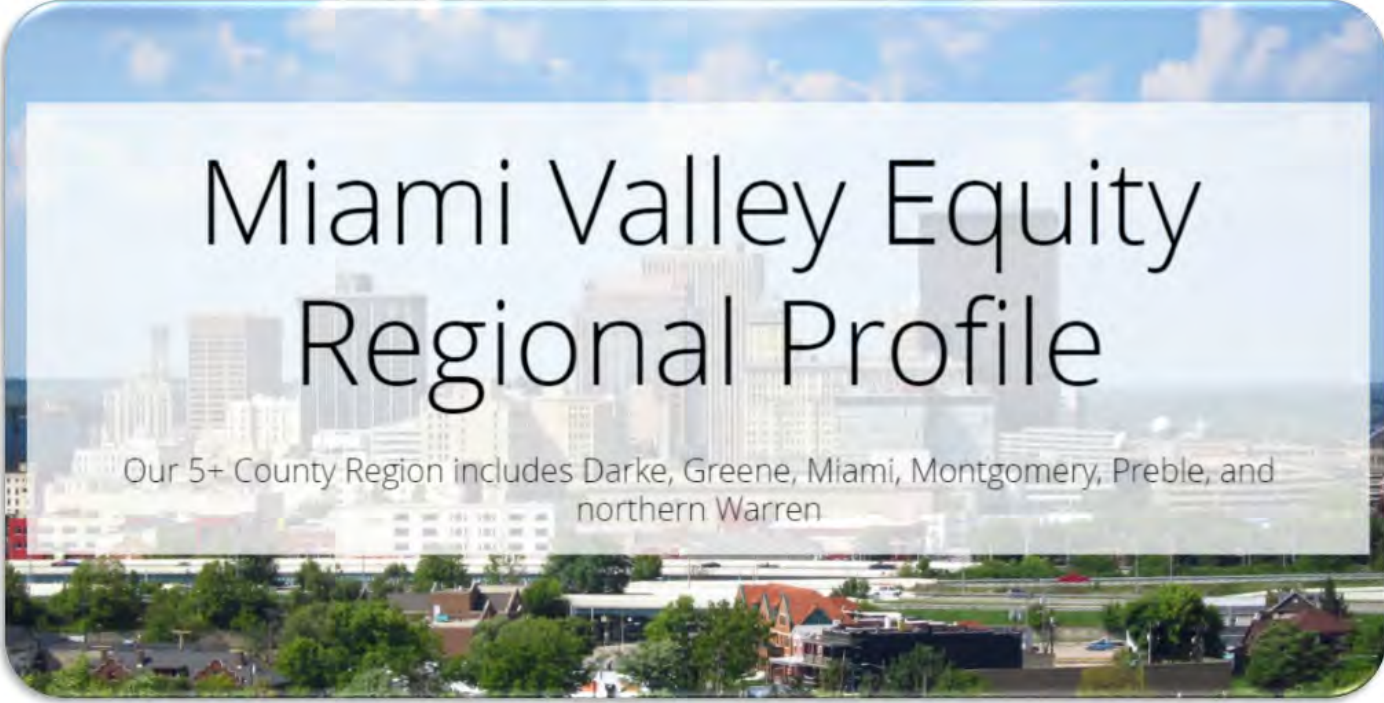

Transportation and Equity:

The choices we make about future transportation and development projects can help expand access to opportunity in our Region.
