All,

Thanks for making the feedback process so easy! I've got just a couple of things for you all to consider as you finalize this draft report:

1. Flight Line Extension Trail: Regarding next steps for proposed bike trail called the Flight Line Extension while right-of-way purchase being finalized... The Kettering and Downtown "landing zones" for this trail might benefit from further study. The current conceptual drawings are exciting but it probably would not be too early to develop these to the next baby-step over time frame of this plan. [https://daytonriverfrontplan.org/wp-content/uploads/2019/01/20180805_DRP-Final-Report-reduced.pdf]

2. EV Chargers: Electric vehicle (EV) charging infrastructure at Miami Valley public places is being discussed by Ohio EPA but Montgomery County is a secondary priority for VW Settlement monies. So, foundational funding to survey and locate best Miami Valley locations and coordinate with DP&L would be money well spent during this plan's time frame—
Debbie,

Subject: Transportation Project

To Planners and Whom It May Concern:

I'm writing in response to the request for feedback on transportation.

As a wheelchair bound person, these are some of the issues I encounter on a regular basis...

- Very few Taxi companies are able to transport power wheelchairs. If they do, it is very expensive. There needs to be an incentive for start-ups or existing companies to provide this service for the disabled. I do have a Para-Transit Pass with RTA which costs me $7 per round trip, but the destination has to be on an RTA route.
- Also, Medical insurance providers such as Molina, Buckeye, CareSource etc all compete with the same companies to provide medical transport services. There are so few companies that provide non-emergency medical transport for those with power wheelchairs. I have had “no-shows”, had to cancel doctor appointments due to drivers being late, been left stranded at a doctors office for hours and hours waiting for transportation to return me home. As you can imagine this is so VERY frustrating, not to mention the health risk this puts us in. Short of an emergent need, I have eliminated setting doctor appointments for this very reason.
- I have a 7 mile range on a fully charged power wheelchair battery. The problems I encounter are:
  Lack of safe sidewalk/bike paths to my destinations within range.
  Sidewalks that are so beaten up or un-level, it is painful to try to traverse them.

Obi Toppin talks with ESPN Analyst Jay Bilas at College GameDay on UD Campus

Toppin, Grant Win Awards As Cavaliers Shake Down Season
Dayton’s 2020-21 season being sharply shut down, those Dayton Flyers will be remembered for decades, as Obi Toppin and Coach Anthony Grant have been selected for the Sporting News Coach of the Year and Coach of the Year honors.

Toppin, a senior, has not yet been named, considering he’s a top 10 pick now, if he were to enter the NBA. He’s the year that the day that Dayton has been projected to be among the top 10 picks.

Would his team have won him back? No doubt. But, like the Flyers this season, the season before the Cavaliers decided the season, it was possible.

Toppin led the Flyers to 23 straight wins, a remarkable record in the A-10, and a 14-6 record in the Big Ten Regular Season. The team will be officially on every 1st Team All-America list there is.

When asked about the season, Toppin said, “it’s been a great year.” Congrats to Toppin and the Flyers season, which could have been even more spectacular if not for the Coronavirus that has shaken the world by storms.

Grant Nabs Coach Of The Year Award
On the coaching side, Coach Anthony Grant won the Sporting News Coach of the Year, after leading the Flyers to a 20-2 record and the Atlantic 10 Championship.

Grant, in his 3rd year in the program, was able to get the Flyers to reach their maximum potential, as Obi Toppin, Obadiah, Jalen Hopson, and others have all contributed significantly to the Flyers’ success. Dayton showed at the top of the year, all season long.

Throughout the season, Grant was able to feed the right game, the right player, all the while getting the most out of the talented squad, and leading them to respect from other teams by the Flyers since 1952.

Grant, who was thrilled to win the award, was heartbroken about the Flyers not getting a chance to play for a NCAA Championship. He did offer a other games on the schedule.

While it hurts now, we will look back years from now and realize what we have in this young team,” Grant said.

“This season will go down as one of the best in UD History, and we’re proud of that. We’re excited for what the team has done this season for the program, the city, and the city of Dayton. Will the NCAA bring back the conference tournament? I’ve been asked. But one thing is for sure. You know Toppin.”

TIP COMMENT

2020-2024 Final Draft Transportation Improvement Program

The Region’s Long Range Transportation Plan is maintained and implemented through the TIP process. Specifically, the TIP is the Region’s highway, roadway, transit, and freight improvements that are funded and/or zone financed. Before local jurisdictions can move forward with any proposed project implementation or construction, that project must first gain approval for use of federal or state dollars by the Region’s policy board and become a part of the TIP.

The Final Draft 2020-2024 TIP includes new construction projects, safety enhancement projects, maintenance and other transportation-related projects and services planned for SFY 2020-2024. Four open public meetings were held May 2020.

The Final 2020-2024 Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) is anticipated to be adopted in May 2020.

Subject: Draft STIP 2021-2024 Comment

Hello Mr. Kowal,

Thank you for providing comments to our Draft STIP. This will be documented in our files as well as the Miami Valley Regional Planning Commission Public Participation Summary and presented to the MVRPC Board of Directors at their May 7 meeting prior to adoption of the regional Transportation Improvement Program.

We are currently considering ramp metering, which is placing a traffic signal at the end of a ramp, for the I-75 & SR 725 Interchange in an upcoming project. However, this is still in the study phase. In addition to this project, there is a Transportation Systems Management & Operations (TSMO) study for the downtown Dayton I-75 corridor between US-35 and Stanley Ave. This study has just begun as well, and is too early for any proposed countermeasures. Once the study is complete, and if presented as a countermeasure, ramp metering would be considered by the district.

Statewide, the Ohio Department of Transportation has recently updated its ramp metering guidelines, including best practices for installation. In addition to these guidelines, the Dayton Metropolitan area highways were identified as candidates for ramp metering if conditions warrant their installation. Any future studies concerning freeway operations or interchanges will consider ramp metering as a possible improvement.

Sincerely

Natasha,

Thank you for your follow-up to my comment and for forwarding to others for consideration in future drafts.

I'm aware of the "limited solutions" that you described above, which have recently been put in place by BCRTA to bridge the gap. It's good what they have started, but it is still a far cry from what is needed to truly link these major regional centers. Google Maps doesn't even show the link between the two cities yet via public transit (even if you'd be willing to take the multi-hour odyssey from SORTA to BCRTA to GDRTA). Hitch-hiking is still the fastest way to reach Dayton from Cincinnati (other than the twice per day Greyhound that drops you in Dayton's suburbs) and that's a shame with how much each of our cities rely on one another.

The frequent, express service between Cleveland, Akron, & Canton is something that Cincinnati and Dayton should strive for as a bare minimum to connect these two urban centers. Thousands of people go back and forth between them daily on I-75 and consolidating people on public transit is a more efficient long-term solution towards the common highway congestion than spending billions more on lane expansions. I hope that future drafts of this plan will make more resources available for inter-Urban connections via public transit and to facilitate planning for these regional urban efforts.

Thank you,

Matt

Dear Mr. Michael Ziehlhow,

Thank you for taking the time to review and comment on the draft 2021-2024 Statewide Transportation Improvement Program (STIP). Below is some information regarding traffic lights and sensing systems that I hope will be helpful.

Although there is no specific policy for vehicle detectors, it is normal and customary engineering practice to use vehicle detectors and ODOT has a plethora of guidance, training and specifications that can be found by visiting the Design Reference Resource Center on ODOT's website http://www.dot.state.oh.us/drsc/Pages/default.aspx. The vast majority of signals in Ohio use vehicle detectors, however, there are some cases where no detection is more appropriate. These “pre-timed” signals are fairly common in urban cores where traffic is very consistent (ex. Downtown Columbus).

As for the delay in responding to the side street – there are a number of reasons why this could happen (ex. waiting for a conflicting pedestrian phase to finish), but the most common reason is coordination. It is very common for nearby signals along a corridor to be coordinated to improve traffic progression through the corridor. In a coordinated system, there are “windows” when the green can leave the main corridor approaches to service the side street and turn phases. Drivers on the side street will have to wait until the “window” opens up and the signal can then service them. There are many strategies to mitigate unnecessary delay caused by coordination – the most simple is to not provide coordination except in the hours when it is needed.

Ohio is a home rule state so all of the signals inside of a city are owned and operated by that city – even if it is a state or U.S. route. If there are specific signals inside of a city that are causing unnecessary delays, it should be brought to the attention of that agency.

Your comment will be included in the final STIP and is being shared with the Metropolitan Planning Organization for Green County, Miami Valley Regional Planning Commission (https://www.mvrc.org/) for their information.

Thank you again for your comment and for your interest in Ohio’s transportation systems.

Respectfully,

Natasha Turner
